Identify the minimum score nearest to the achieved score

Convert the achieved score into the corresponding CEFR® level

This table is an extract of the Report Research: “Mapping the Test de Français International™ onto the Common European Framework of Reference.” The standard-setting study of the TFI scores to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR) was conducted by Baron, P.A. & Tannenbaum, R.J. - 2010. The results of the standard setting are recommended minimum score requirements, or cut scores. The mapping of TFI scores to each CEFR level in this particular study is presented as guidelines for minimum thresholds for each level. ETS does not recommend using the minimum cut scores strictly. TFI scores are reported in 5-point increments. The listening and the reading sections do not add up. Sections are independent from one another.

* CEFR: The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages outlines an ascending series of common reference levels for describing learner proficiency. This CEFR describes both knowledge and skills in positive “can do” statements at six levels of proficiency for different language skills from A1 level (Basic User - Breakthrough) to C2 level (Proficient User - Mastery).

| Proficient user – Effective Operational Proficiency | C1                                                   | - I can understand extended speech even when it is not clearly structured and when relationships are only implied and not signalled explicitly.
- I can understand television programmes and films without too much effort. | - I can understand long and complex factual and literary texts, appreciating distinctions of style.
- I can understand specialised articles and longer technical instructions, even when they do not relate to my field. |
| Independent user - Vantage      | B2                                                   | - I can understand extended speech and lectures and follow even complex lines of argument provided the topic is reasonably familiar.
- I can understand most TV news and current affairs programmes.
- I can understand the majority of films in standard dialect. | - I can read articles and reports concerned with contemporary problems in which the writers adopt particular attitudes or viewpoints.
- I can understand contemporary literary prose. |
| Independent user - Threshold    | B1                                                   | - I can understand the main points of clear standard speech on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc.
- I can understand the main point of many radio or TV programmes on current affairs or topics of personal or professional interest when the delivery is relatively slow and clear. | - I can understand texts that consist mainly of high frequency everyday or job-related language.
- I can understand the description of events, feelings and wishes in personal letters. |
| Basic user - Waystage           | A2                                                   | - I can understand phrases and the highest frequency vocabulary related to areas of most immediate personal relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local area, employment).
- I can catch the main point in short, clear, simple messages and announcements. | - I can read very short, simple texts.
- I can find specific, predictable information in simple everyday material such as advertisements, prospectuses, menus and timetables and I can understand short simple personal letters. |
